ECHOES FROM THE CHAPTER HALL DAY TWELVE

Like a butterfly strengthening its wings as it emerges from its cocoon, our vision for the future is also breaking through barriers. Our journey of chiselling has begun, guided by the invitations of the Spirit, the stirrings of change, and the deepening of our collective consciousness.

We have identified the clutters within and around us, choosing to focus on what truly matters. This renewed clarity enables us to move forward with purpose in our discussions.

With strengthened wings,
we soar forward in our mission.
